

CALL FOR PAPERS

State Bank of Pakistan Research Bulletin

The State Bank of Pakistan Research Bulletin is being published regularly from 2005 with two issues in a year (May and November). The Bulletin publishes high-quality research in the area of macroeconomics, with special emphasis on monetary and exchange rate economics and policy issues. Articles published in the journal are subject to blind-refereeing review process by a panel of internationally recognized economists. The Bulletin is indexed in EconLit of American Economic Association.

Until now the regular issue of the Bulletin has been restricted to contributions from SBP staff only. However, it is now open to all economic researchers. Economists are invited to contribute to the Bulletin with their research papers in the field of macroeconomics. Contributions can be submitted as an email attachment at sbprb@sbp.org.pk. Authors should write and format their manuscripts according to the guidelines given at <http://www.sbp.org.pk/research/bulletin/index.asp>.

All manuscripts are subject to double blind review. Papers will be reviewed and feedback will be given to authors as soon as possible to complete the review process within 8-10 weeks. The Bulletin is released online at SBP website as soon as its contents are finalized and formatted, and email alert is sent to the authors of the accepted papers. A complimentary copy of the printed version of the Bulletin is also sent to the authors.
